

Icebreakers

Honey I love you!

Group size: Any size group

Resources needed: None

Instructions:

- The group sit in a circle with one person stood in the middle, it's best for the worker to start off in the middle to get things going.
- The person in the middle has to try and get a seat – to do this they have to kneel in front of someone and say (in their best over-acting style!) “Honey I love you”. The person has to reply “honey you know I love you but I just can’t smile”.
- If the person in the chair smiles or laughs they have to give up their chair. They then become the person in the middle who needs to get a seat and the game continues!
